Following is the English translation of a note which came out of [redacted] with the request to submit it to the Swedish Embassy in Washington, D.C.

"We are giving you information relating to the murder of Olaf Palme. This information has been gathered by several people and from several sources. The murderer is [redacted] and he lives in [redacted]. He is [redacted] years old, his last birthday was [redacted]. His initials are [redacted].?); we don't know which initial indicates the first and which the last name. He left Sweden by ferry or by ship on the first or second day after the murder. He was acting on orders and he has been trained. Should the above information prove true and should it help to find the murderer, please, [redacted],

[redacted]

P.S. [redacted]

P.S. In the handwritten [redacted] original, letters "l" and "1" look almost identical. That's why [redacted] could be as well [redacted]." as [redacted] and the [redacted] could be [redacted]

Detta verkar mycket underligt men jag vill ändå delge Polisen information i händelse liknande information skulle ha inkommit från annat håll.
